

We invite you to the seminar in Hasliberg, April 20 to 23, 2022

Christian Apologetics

How to Defend the Faith?

Many people consider the Christian faith to be old-fashioned and no longer tenable. In their minds modern science has proven that a creator is unnecessary to explain our existence. They think that those who continue to believe in the God of the Bible are naively chasing after fairy tales. Nathan Guy has seriously considered the field of Christian Apologetics. He has studied theology, philosophy and ethics at Harding, Oxford and Cambridge and is currently President of a Bible School in Alabama. He intends to help us to have reasonable arguments at the ready, so that we are able to give inquiring people a justifiable accounting for the hope that we hold dear.

We invite you to attend this seminar which we had already planned for last year. It will be well worth your time. Just as in previous years, the seminar will take place in rural Hasliberg with a magnificent view of the Bernese Alps. We look forward to your attendance.
